

March 17, 2020

The Delta Flight Museum values our staff, volunteers, and guests, and it is our goal to provide a safe and healthy environment for everyone that walks through our doors. Because the situation surrounding COVID-19 (a.k.a. the Coronavirus) continues to evolve, we are closed. A reopen date has yet to be determined.

If you have a group visit, tour, or event booked between now and the end of May, please reach out to us before solidifying your plans.

We will continue to monitor the situation closely and share updated information as necessary. For any other questions or concerns related to your Delta Flight Museum visit, please contact us at (404) 715-7886 or museum.delta@delta.com.

We appreciate your understanding at this time.

Sincerely,
